serving people facing hunger

Father and son duo, Gerald and Gerald Jr., visited a Second Harvest Mobile Market recently, making everyone in line laugh while they waited for their share of nutritious groceries. Gerald was grateful for the help, saying, "In the middle of the month you still have some cushion, but at the end it's cutting it close. I'm excited for the food itself."

Second Harvest provides food to more than 250 partner food banks, meal sites and other programs that serve families facing hunger in Eastern Washington and North Idaho. Second Harvest appreciates the community support that helps get food to people who need it.
